

2003 Garage Sale Book Donations - "How-to's"

The Central Library in Santa Clara is currently under construction (on Homestead and Kiely), and they are now accepting book donations at their temporary site (see below). The City of Cupertino Library is also under construction at this time, so they are not accepting books at this time.

The Foundation and Friends of the Santa Clara City Library, and neighboring city libraries are grateful to the community of Santa Clara for their continuing support of their book sales. Donations of good quality used books are always welcome. The proceeds from the sale of donated books are used to benefit various Libraries in many ways.

Nobody wants to see a good book go to waste, but many of the donations the Library receives are of such poor quality that they aren't salable and have to be discarded, which costs the Library money.

- Please drop books off at the drop off box inside the Library, just go inside and speak to someone at the counter before bringing in your donations.
- Please limit your donations to 3 boxes at a time.
- Please DO NOT drop off the following materials:
 - Software
 - Magazines or Newspapers
 - Old, out-of-date textbooks (including encyclopedias)
 - Damaged books (including moldy, water damaged, mouse-nibbled books, etc...)
- For other locations to donate your books go to www.santaclaracountylib.org or www.recyclestuff.org.

Please be selective in your donations

- You can recycle magazines, newspapers, and paperback books in your "mixed paper" bin.
- Hardbound books that cannot be donated may be recycled.

Remove the pages from the binding, and recycle the pages in your "mixed paper" bin.
